Active Villagers

Residents of a small Welsh-speaking community have clubbed together to buy the village post office and shop, ten years after buying the local pub.

The people of Llithfaen, Caernarfonshire were determined to prevent their village from losing its focal point. Ten years ago they paid £40,000 for the pub, called ‘The Victoria’, and now they have helped to keep the shop open. Most of the cost, £19,500, was met by the local council and a European Union grant, but the villagers needed to raise a further £6,000 to buy the shop from the owner, who is retiring. John Jones, chairman of the community committee, said: “We went around every house and came back with £500 more than we needed. The post office and the pub are essential to the life of the village. There are no other amenities.”

“We were not prepared to stand by and let the heart and soul be ripped out of our community. No one else was going to help us, so we decided to buy them ourselves.” Llithfaen had a population of 600 but that halved when nearby granite quarries were closed. The primary school was shut because of the population decline, but the locals turned it into a leisure centre and youth club.

The shop has been leased to Ffion Medi Llywelyn, 24, who lives in the village with her husband, Dillon. She said: “There is a wonderful community spirit here.”

2.1 The Llithfaen post office

- A. closed ten years ago.
- B. has been saved by the local people.
- C. has now closed.

2.2 The shop has been bought

- A. by the local council.
- B. for £40,000.
- C. with the help of the people who live in the area.

2.3. The shop was going to close

- A. because of a decision by the European Union.
- B. because the owner needed the money.
- C. because the owner thought he was too old to run the shop.

2.4. £500

- A. was paid by every person in the village.
- B. was paid by the owner of the pub.
- C. was the amount of money the villagers still had after the village shop had been bought.

2.5. The people of Llithfaen decided to buy the pub, the shop and the post office themselves

- A. because all of them were rich.
- B. because nobody else could help them.
- C. because they were asked to do so.

2.6. Llithfaen no longer has

- A. a leisure centre.
- B. a pub.
- C. a school

2.7. The population of Llithfaen got considerably smaller

- A. when the granite quarries were closed.
- B. when the primary school was shut.
- C. when the shop was bought by the local community.

TRANSKRYPCJA TEKSTÓW

Zadanie 1

Tekst 1.

Man: Our company noticed that many people serve food in plastic bowls or on plastic plates. This increases the amount of rubbish people produce. That's why we've prepared this new type of dish made from natural materials. You can put your food on it and after lunch just eat your plate. It tastes really good. What's more, if you buy our products, you won't need a dishwasher. This will surely save you a lot of money and protect the environment.

Tekst 2.

Boy: Mum, guess what, there's an exhibition of some modern paintings at the main entrance here. I think you'll love them.

Woman: Oh, great! I'm going there tomorrow to get some clothes for Molly, so I will have a look. Have you bought all the things I put on the list?

Boy: Almost. I just have to find some yoghurt and something to drink. By the way, I'll be a bit late. I've got to stop by the cinema to get some tickets for tomorrow.

Woman: OK, but be quick. You know I need the food to prepare some supper.

Boy: Sure!

Tekst 3.

Woman: A Californian company has invented a Dream Headband that can let you change what you do in your dreams and remember them. Unfortunately, you won't be able to get rid of your bad dreams. The headband can only help you change what's going to happen in your dreams. In the future, the company would like to make it possible to record your dreams and to let you see them on your computer screen. Are you interested?

Tekst 4.

Peter: Sandra, your birthday is coming up. How are you going to celebrate it?

Sandra: At home with my friends.

Peter: Are you going to invite all of them?

Sandra: Of course. You are also invited! I'm going to make some delicious food for the party.

Peter: Will you use that new recipe you told me about yesterday?

Sandra: Well, that one is too complicated. I'll cook something I've already done before. At least I know it's tasty. By the way, will you help me with the balloons and some confetti?

Peter: Sure, no problem.

Tekst 5.

Man: I've been lucky enough to spend most of my life skiing. I do what I love and earn money at the same time. What can you do to be like me? First, join our skiing school. We offer instructor training courses during which we'll show you how to teach beginners to ski. You should be an advanced skier to be accepted. After our course you won't become a skiing champion at the Olympics but you'll get the certificate necessary to teach other people. Join us now.

Tekst 6.

Woman: Excuse me, I have a complaint to make.

Receptionist: What's the problem, madam?

Woman: I was woken up by a noise last night and I couldn't sleep.

Receptionist: Sorry, I know the trains are a trouble.

Woman: Actually, I am staying on the other side and trains don't disturb me.

Receptionist: Perhaps it was that noisy party on your floor. I really apologize.

Woman: No, it was a terribly loud sound that made me jump to my feet.

Receptionist: Oh, sorry, it was a smoke alarm.

Woman: Did anything happen?

Receptionist: No, it was started by mistake.
